Notes on the day:

At lunch time participants will be able to look at the interactive Historic Environment Record database for Greater Manchester.

New publications will be launched and there will be a chance to browse and buy archaeology books, look at finds displays by the Centre for Applied Archaeology, and view displays from local archaeology societies.

Refreshments will be provided but not lunch; you can bring your own packed lunch or make use of the local cafes or pubs.

All taking place in the wonderful setting of the Peel Building on The Crescent, within the University of Salford campus.
